FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

THURSDAY, August 19. In the nervously and excitably depressed stock market to-day there were plenty of evidences of well organized and boldly executed operations for the decline on the part of professional traders on the floor of the exchange and other large market operators. The tape itself displayed these indications clearly enough. It recorded in many instances successions of large selling orders that could hardly have occurred On Banco Nacional de Mexico from any other operation than that of manipulation for a decline. But in addition to this strong exertion of selling pressure by market operators there was much unloading of stocks by speculators alarmed by some of the reports 2000...985s Ny N H&H cv 11000...113 Wabash 1st 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny N H&H cv 11000...1041 Ny H&W abash 2d 315s Ny H&W abash tors alarmed by some of the reports it difficult to secure information regarding him and therefore all the easier for those circulating unfavorable reports to secure credulous auditors. It was accordingly posssible to use them successfully in a campaign against the market But there seems no doubt that the reports were greatly exaggerated. That at least is the opinion of Mr. Harriman's business associates and friends. One of the most important of them declared very positively that the treatment at the baths had been of great benefit, and that, as Mr. Harriman said in cables to business associates vesterday, a short period of rest at Arden would restore him to his normal vigor. In this connection it was noteworthy that none of Mr. Harriman's friends sought to secure advices from him yesterday by wireless telegraphy, as might readily have been done. Obviously they telt no alarm over his condition. But the speculative mind was greatly exercised over it, and it is probable that until his arrival varying reports will be used to bring about a nervously agitated stock market. From this those who hold stocks for investment or on proper margins have nothing to fear. In New York Central, Union Pacific and many other stocks the opening prices were well below vesterday's close. Trading in Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, New York Central, Reading and Stee common was at a furious pace and many of the fluctuations were abrupt and violent. A vigorous rally set in at midday, but in the closing hour there was another and more determined drive on prices under which the entire list vielded, and the market was very soft at the close. Bearish operations were greatly facilitated by hasty and affrighted profit taking on the part of speculators and by the uncovering of numerous additional stop loss orders. The declines in the stocks with which Mr. Harriman's name is connected were greatest, but it was natural that the entire list should be affected for the reason that as the Harriman stocks broke many speculators were obliged to sacrifice other stocks to protect commitments in the Harrimans. While all these losses were being sustained very encouraging trade and crop reports were in course of accomulation. One of the most important of these came in a private message from the head of one of the great railroad systems. who has been examining business conditions in the Southwest at first hand and who insisted that the reports of damage to corn in Oklahoma and Kansas had been greatly exaggerated and that a record crop was absolutely assured. A sharp decline in the corn options seemed o substantiate this opinion, but in the grain markets the most notable development was a break in wheat prices following reports of very favorable harvest weather in the Northwest. Louisville and Nashville, reporting for the fiscal year, showed a gratifying increase in both gross and net earnings; heavy orders of railroad equipment were made, and the Bank of England's weekly statement showed a further increase of reserve. Every actual development, in other words, made it manifest that increased strength had been imparted to all the fundamentals of the financial and commercial structure. New York Stock Exchange Sales, Aug. 19.
